Thank you for submitting your manuscript, which addresses a timely and compelling topic in artificial intelligence and English language learning. This research is highly relevant and up-to-date, and it is likely to attract the interest of the Advanced Education readership. However, there are some critical issues that need to be addressed before the manuscript can be considered for publication:

The manuscript states that the Scopus database was used for analysis, with data collected until February 2024. However, the International Journal of Emerging Technologies in Learning (IJET), a key journal in the analysis, was removed from Scopus in October 2023. This discrepancy means the data may not be precise. It is recommended that the authors manually add articles from IJET and explicitly acknowledge this limitation in the manuscript's "Limitations" section to avoid reader confusion.

The analysis is based on 270 documents as of February 20, 2024. Given that we are now at the end of 2024, a nine-month gap in the field of AI research is significant, as this period may have seen the publication of a record number of papers. To ensure the analysis remains current and comprehensive, the authors should extend the data collection to include all publications through the end of 2024.

The literature review relies primarily on sources from 2023. To enhance the study's relevance, the authors should incorporate recent publications from 2024 in both the review and analysis sections.

Recommendations for Revision

Extend the analysis to include publications through December 2024.

Add recent sources from 2024 to the literature review and analysis.

Revise the "Limitations" section to address the Scopus data issue and the manual addition of IJET articles.

If these revisions are completed and submitted by December 12, 2024, the manuscript has the potential to be included in the December 2024 issue of Advanced Education. Additionally, the publication fee must be paid by December 18, 2024. If more time is needed, the manuscript can be considered for the June 2025 issue instead.

This paper has strong potential, and we look forward to reviewing the revised version.

Kind regards,

Valentina Lukianenko

Thank you for your constructive feedback on my manuscript titled "Trends in artificial intelligence-infused English language learning: A comprehensive bibliometric and content review". Based on your recommendations, I have extended the data collection to include publications through December 2024, discussed the limitations related to the Journal of Emerging Technologies in Learning (IJET), and updated the literature review with key publications from 2024.

Attached to this email is the revised manuscript for your review. I hope the revisions align with the expectations of Advanced Education, and I look forward to your feedback.

Best regards,

Wahyuni Sri
