This research was a pragmatic study on speech acts and conversational implicates performed by the characters in Angry Bird which means the data research is all from the conversation in the movie. This research is aimed at identifying and describing the expressive speech acts focusing on the employment of types of apologizing act and also the purpose of each types.

This research employed a qualitative method with the researcher as the key instrument and the data sheets used as the secondary instruments. The object of this research was the characters in Angry Bird movie. The data were in the form of lingual units, i.e. words, phrases, clauses or sentences. The data analysis of this research were based on the findings of the type of apologizing act classification and the conversational that arise in the character's utterances. To achieve the trustworthiness of the data, the researcher used some theories and previous study about Expressive Speech Acts especially in Apologizing Act.

The findings of this research reveal two important points. First, there are seven types of apologizing act found in Angry Bird movie; they are Hurt, Sorry (for An Excuse, Politely), Sorry (or Have Lost Your Job, or Unlucky), Excuse Me? (Polite), Sorry (Intentionally), ExcúseMé! (Ironic, with Two Exaggerated Stresses), and Excuse Me? (Exaggeratedly Incredulous).Based on the analysis, the researcher found two types of apologizing act which are used mostly by the characters in Angry Bird movie such as Sorry (for An Excuse, Politely), Sorry (or Have Lost Your Job, or Unlucky). Second, the purpose of these types depend on the context in each of the utterances in Angry Bird movie. In conclusion, there are three kinds of Sorry and excuse me in apologizing act with different aims used in utterances, but there are only two of them were mostly used in Sorry, such as Sorry (for An Excuse, Politely), Sorry (or Have Lost Your Job, or Unlucky).
